

WOMAN STABBED BEFORE A CROWD

Six Wounds Inflicted in Harlem Street by Assailant, Who Escaped.

A handsomely dressed, goodlooking woman about twenty-three years old, who said she was Mary Sear, of No. 23 Third street, Albany, temporarily staying with friends at No. 47 East One Hundred and Fourteenth street, was stabbed half a dozen times by a man in Third avenue, between Ninety-seventh and Ninety-eighth streets, last night. The man, whom the woman declares she does not know, ran after doing the cutting and escaped. The police have a description of him.

According to the woman, she was walking down the avenue when the man came up to her and made an insulting remark. She resented what he said and he pulled a knife from his pocket and began to stab at her. One of the cuts was over her left eye, another on one side of her nose, and three in her side and three on her back, less serious, in various parts of her body. A bystander who saw the assault called a policeman from Harlem Hospital, to which place the woman was taken, despite the demands of several persons who claimed to know her and insisted that she be taken to a private physician. After her wounds were dressed at the hospital she was allowed to go home.

The statement of M. Gotsitz, a jeweler, in front of whose store the stabbing took place, differs from that of the woman in some particulars. He says that both the man and the woman were walking down the avenue, apparently together, while the woman says she was going in one direction and the man in another.

Mr. Gotsitz told the police that, just as the couple got in front of his store, they began to talk loudly, and the man pulled a knife and began slashing at the woman.

MAY NAME OFFICERS.

Law Gives Governor Power in County Appointments.

Unless the canvass of the county vote finished next week the officers for the County of New York may be named by the Governor. The members of the Board of Aldermen and the members of the Assembly will not be able to take their seats because of lack of certificates of election.

While the contest is over, the Mayor, the law provides that the vote must be canvassed first. In the absence of a canvass of the vote the Governor is empowered by the Public Officers Act to appoint county officers. Alderman Douglass says if the work can be resumed by Monday there will be some chance of making the count.

FISHERMEN SAVED AT SEA.

(Special to The Evening World.)
FOUR FISHING boats, which were launched yesterday afternoon from the pier at the foot of the East River, were given up for lost.

They embarked in a gasoline launch Wednesday, and a gale swamped the launch. The men took to their dory and managed to reach Great Neck Island, where they hoisted a signal of distress. The signal was seen by the Woodbury.

JEWELRY MAKES THE BEST CHRISTMAS GIFT

Always Appropriate, and Lewkowitz Stores Make Purchase Easy.

That jewelry or some cleverly extended example of the goldsmith's art is the best Christmas present when the matter of cost is put aside accounts the great reason seen daily in the stores of L. Lewkowitz, at Sixth and Seventeenth street and No. Grand street. The great attraction here is not only the quality of the jewelry, but the moderate cost for the small goods at factory prices.

Although the prices are so low that seems almost impossible to sell, the store is so crowded with goods that the customer is sure to find what he wants. There is nothing a person could desire in the way of jewelry for Christmas that is not included in the well-stocked store.

One of the conveniences that the firm offers its patrons is especially appreciated at this time of the year. The large stock and the increased facilities for handling business every opportunity is given those who wish to make their purchases in advance of the holiday season.

In anticipation of the great Christmas trade the Lewkowitz stores have been enlarged by the addition of an entire building, and this year it is one of the largest establishments in New York.

With the reputation of the goods and the moderate prices so many persons have made the two stores headquarters for their holiday purchases that the increased facilities for handling the trade are none too large.

Harvard President Speaks for Japs and Chinese—Against Contract Labor Law.

BOSTON, Dec. 16.—In an address before the Economic Club of Boston last night President Charles W. Eliot, of Harvard, speaking on "Immigration," said:

"It is the labor unions who teach the doctrine of contract labor exclusion. That is the source of all the agitation along these lines," he continued. "It is best to speak plainly. The Americans who have got into the good trades want to keep out all the new comers from these trades. Mr. Compers the other day in New York opposed the admission of Chinese students and education of Chinese students and education of Chinese students on the ground that Chinese coolies might smuggle themselves into the country in that guise."

"I want to protest against that line of argument, that we should try to keep out new arrivals because our earnings will be reduced."

"That is not the real danger. Have wages fallen in the last fifty years or risen? Yet immigrants have been coming by the millions."

"Our laboring class—I may use such a term—hold a very unmanly opinion about the new comers. They have no confidence enough in their own superiority resulting from their own advantages. We ought to have a profound confidence from our own experience on this soil of the trustworthiness of the new arrivals."

"I am not of a restrictionist to any degree in education, race or immigration. We are all of us pretty content with the results of the immigration of the last eight generations. It has been the course of our civilization and of our ideals."

"The only possible doubt about the present immigration contrasted with the former is that are the races that are coming now as sound physically, morally and mentally as the races that have come since 1847. There is a good deal of race and religious prejudice in the matter."

Men ask, "Can we digest these Roman Catholics? Well, we have digested many millions of them, and they have turned out humane, excellent citizens. What race have we digested more difficultly than the Irish? Yet in President Roosevelt himself there are two strains of blood, one Dutch and the other Irish."

President Eliot then spoke in a favorable strain of the Japs and Chinese, against whom the labor men are arrayed. He said:

"As to contract labor, the law cannot be enforced, never has been enforced and never ought to be enforced."

MAN GONE; WIFE DEAD.

Suspicion Led to the Discovery of a Woman's Body.

Hilda Linnell, wife of John Linnell, a chauffeur of No. 22 Lexington avenue, was found dead in her apartment to-day by the janitor of the house, Michael Houlihan.

The woman's husband went South with his employers a month ago. Mrs. Linnell had been in bad health for some time. No one had seen her for several days, so the janitor broke the door in to-day. The body was found in bed. A physician who was summoned said she had been dead about two days.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

A Timely Warning on Some of Its Dangers.

During the season of Christmas shopping great care should be taken not to unnecessarily expose yourself to colds that are likely to result in grip and pneumonia. The excitement of the day is quite likely to cause you to overlook the sudden change from hot to cold, coming from the close and suffocating air of the big stores to the street. Then there is great danger from disease germs where so many people are gathered in close quarters.

Doctors declare that this is one explanation for the annual increase of sickness at this season. While this article is written to again call your attention to the value of Father

John's Medicine in curing and preventing colds, grip and pneumonia, it will be of value to you and may save your life if it causes you to be careful and avoid the dangers we have pointed out—they are real dangers.

And if we cause you to avoid the patent medicines, 99 per cent. of which contain nerve-deadening and poisonous drugs, by again warning you against them, it will be the means of saving your health.

Father John's Medicine is not a patent preparation—it was prescribed for the late Rev. Fr. John O'Brien, of St. Patrick's parish, fifty years ago by an eminent specialist.

COD LIVER OIL.

It almost makes you sick to think of it, but it isn't nearly as bad as it used to be. The improved method of refining it makes it much easier to take, and when made into Scott's Emulsion almost every one can take it.

Most children like it and all children that are not robust are benefited by it. When the doctor says "Take cod liver oil," he generally means Scott's Emulsion; ask him if he doesn't. They know it is more easily digested and better than the plain oil.

WEALTH SCARCE, HE TRIED TO DIE

Goldberg Cut His Throat with Safety Razor, but Failed of Nirvana.

Baruch Goldberg, recently arrived in this country from Russia, whence he fled to keep out of the army, tried to kill himself at the home of his brother, Louis Goldberg, No. 287 Madison street, to-day, because all the stories he had heard of how gold could be picked up on the streets had proved untrue.

Goldberg was drafted for the army to serve in Manchuria a year ago. He had just reached his majority when the soldiers appeared in Oostrow to make a soldier of him, by force if necessary.

Goldberg left home in the night and made his way to Antwerp, where he was taken ill, and for many months lay ill in a hospital. Recovering his health, he took ship for this country. All his life he had heard stories how money could be had for the asking in this country. He didn't believe any one had to work, and thought America was a land flowing with milk and honey.

Goldberg planned to become a banker if he decided upon any work at all. Goldberg's brother was a tinsmith for a living. Through him he got into the money market. In fact, he had no profession, and the brother gave him a job to teach Baruch how to make cigars. Baruch learned the trade, but it was not to his liking. It was not banking or finding money in the streets.

Baruch finished his apprenticeship yesterday. He was to have gone to work on salary to-day, but Baruch was disappointed. Late last night he wrote a letter to his brother, telling him how he was a failure, and how the stories he had heard of America were untrue.

Then he cut his throat with a safety razor and lay down to die. The razor had cut deep enough and Goldberg had given up. He was found by his brother, who called a physician and had him sent to St. Vincent's Hospital. The physician said Goldberg was in a bad way, but he was not in a day or two.

(Special to The Evening World.)

NORTH ATTLEBORO, Mass., Dec. 16.—In a head-on collision last night on the "Gee Whizz" electric line, a freight car was smashed to pieces and six persons were seriously injured and many other passengers sustained slight injuries.

The electric car was speeding along at a terrific rate over private land, when it struck a row of electric freight cars that were backing onto the main line.

AN IMPORTANT SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.

Likely to Revolutionize Pharmacy.

A HAPPY COMBINATION
Of just the right proportion of each of the roots of several indigenous, or native, medicinal plants, or rather of the active medicinal principles of these roots, has been discovered. They are the chemically pure glycerine of just the right strength, constitutes Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of weak, invalid, nervous, "run-down," over-worked women. Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a far better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles found in our indigenous or native medicinal plants than is alcohol, even in small portions, if long continued, works great harm to the human system, he determined not to employ it. The only way to get the medicinal principles of these plants into making his medicines, but to use pure, triple-refined glycerine instead. Now glycerine is not only perfectly harmless, but it possesses intrinsic medicinal properties, being a most valuable demulcent, solvent, nutritive, anti-septic and anti-ferment. Since they are non-alcoholic, Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines belong to the class of medicines that are neither patent nor secret medicines. Their ingredients are printed in plain English, on each bottle wrapper.

The exact proportion of the several ingredients used in these medicines, as well as the working formula and peculiar processes, apparatus and appliances employed in their manufacture, are with-held from the public, as they are the property rights may not be infringed and trespassed upon by unprincipled imitators and those who may be piratically inclined.

With Dr. Pierce's medicines you don't have to pin your faith wholly to what the manufacturer says of their curative potency as with other medicines. Mercenary motives, the greed for money-getting, it is feared, often lead men, and women too, to put forth unscrupulous claims for their "doubtful" remedies, many times nearly worthless compounds. Especially should the afflicted beware of the "Cheap-John," free give away, "trial" bottles. It is not a trial bottle, but a bottle of poison. It should be regarded as too sacred to be experimented with.

Dr. Pierce's medicines have a record of nearly forty years of cures behind them, embracing many hundreds of thousands of cases restored to health and happiness.

They stand alone in having the professional endorsement of scores of eminent medical practitioners and writers, of all the several schools of the medical profession, who praise the curative properties of the several ingredients of which they are composed, away beyond all that the makers of these medicines have ever claimed for them. These are the more valuable because in every case written without the author knowing that he was praising articles entering into these popular medicines, the matter being a confidential publication in various medical journals and books designed exclusively for professional reading and instruction. This attested, as in every way truthful and trustworthy.

A LITTLE BOOK
has been compiled, made up of brief extracts from the several medical works, giving, but only in part, some of the many good things written by leading medical authorities concerning the several native medicinal roots that are the more valuable because in every case written without the author knowing that he was praising articles entering into these popular medicines, the matter being a confidential publication in various medical journals and books designed exclusively for professional reading and instruction. This attested, as in every way truthful and trustworthy.
